MEMBER ALERT

Australian Qualifications Framework Review Submissions due 15 March 2019

To Members,

In the last Budget, the federal government announced a review of the Australian Qualifications Framework \(AQF\).

The AQF is the national policy for regulated qualifications which puts senior secondary school, vocational education and training, and higher education qualifications into a single, national framework.

The review is a significant step because there have been many important developments since the AQF was last reviewed seven years ago. For the apprentice employment sector, these changes include the way that education and training is delivered, and the need by some industries and individuals for shorter, more flexible qualifications and skillsets.

The expert panel has released a discussion paper which you can view here. There will be a stakeholder consultation process during February and a report to the government due next July.

NAEN is planning to make a submission to the expert panel that is reviewing NAEN is planning to make a submission to the expert panel that is reviewing the AQF and would be pleased to hear from members who wish to have a say in the outcome.

Submissions to the review are due by 15 March. For members wishing to have input into the NAEN submission, please forward your comments by 13 February by email to info@naen.com.au.

Kind regards,

Grace Templeton
